Brief description

This plot in Javea offers a generous 1,030 m² parcel of land within the established Lomas del Rey urbanisation on the Costa Blanca. Positioned to take advantage of panoramic mountain views, the site provides a tranquil setting with open outlooks that enhance the sense of space and privacy.

The plot is suitable for building a luxury villa with the potential to include a private pool, making it a practical choice for those seeking a custom home in a residential area. Its size and orientation allow for thoughtful design options that maximise natural light and outdoor living areas.

The information in this brochure is indicative and subject to availability, documentary confirmation, physical viewing and verification of price, surfaces, condition, taxes and costs before any reservation or contract.
